Teacher Handout #4
Here's What...So What...Now What

Here's What...

Trainers will serve as 'change agents' to implement the new T-TESS system statewide.

T-TESS is directly aligned to the new Texas Teacher Standards.

Pre-conferences and post-conferences are an integral part of the teacher development process.

T-TESS is an evidence-based evaluation process; therefore, collecting and categorizing evidence is significant.

The four T-TESS Domains are interwoven to support each teacher's growth and development.

Fidelity of training is non-negotiable.

The manner in which trainers embrace the system sends a strong message to the education community.

So What...

Now What...